Mr. Kuntz,

I write on behalf of the Lehman Brothers bankruptcy estates. We tried and were unable to reach you by phone this afternoon to see if you would be willing to stand down from your threatened appeal of the order approving the JPMorgan settlement, which has no basis in law or fact. As you concede, you no longer have any claims against the estates. What is more, an examiner has already investigated the transactions at issue.

Nor is there any connection between your complaints about Grand Union and the JPMorgan settlement.

If you persist with your baseless opposition to the JPMorgan Settlement, the estates plan to pursue sanctions against you, including the attorney's fees and expenses incurred in responding to you and an order enjoining you from further filings in the bankruptcy case without prior approval of the Court. We can discuss this with you further if you will please provide a phone number where you can be reached.

Otherwise, please let us know by close of business tomorrow by return email if you are willing to cease your opposition to the settlement, including withdrawing your purported notice of appeal of the order approving the settlement agreement. If you do not agree or we do not hear from you by close of business tomorrow, the estates intend to pursue sanctions against you. If that is what you choose, we encourage you to seek separate counsel.

Best regards,

Tyler
Whitmer
